PROGRAMME FOR THE MONTENEGRIN DELEGATION @ TERRA MADRE

The overall programme of Salone del Gusto Terra Madre is available here:

<https://salonedelgusto.com>

The exhibition area will be divided into 4 pavilions. The Pavilion named “Oval” is the one dedicated to international exhibitors. This is where also the 5 main “clusters” will take place, dedicated to respectively: Slow Meat, Slow Fish, Food & Health, Seeds & biodiversity, Insects and Bees. Each cluster will be organised so to host taste workshops and Terra Madre forums throughout the day.

The main events occurring within Terra Madre are:

Terra Madre Forums – conferences open to both delegates and visitors;

Taste Workshop – paying events (that can be booked online) where participants will have the chance to taste products or dishes – it is the culinary side of the event;

Conferences – they take place in the city centre of Turin, usually entail VIP guests and are meant primarily for the wider public;

We have prepared a list of events that we reckon our Macedonian and Georgian delegates should not miss.

Below is the detailed list. All of them are taking place within “Lingotto Fiere” exhibition area.

FRIDAY THE 21st

Terra Madre Forum

Slow Food Travel – Travelling according to Slow Food

Every territory contains traditions, tastes, and artisanal practices who can contribute to the uniqueness of sustainable tourism offers in rural areas. Simultaneously, if correctly implemented, rural tourism can nurture origin-linked artisan food production chains. This forum explore some of the best practices recently emerged, including Slow Food Travel – the Slow Food project aiming to encourage the discovery of unique culinary cultures and direct contact with producers, cooks, and hosts who work to protect biodiversity and enhance the heritage of their territory. The Terra Madre thematic Forums are presented by delegates of the network and are open to the public as long as seats are available.

Forum origin Diversity territories

Perspectives on Territories in transition

The Forum 'Origin, Diversity and Territories' brings together a global panel of stakeholders, all engaged in new ways of thinking and doing development. This knowledge sharing platform explores new ways of thinking and doing development, where the identity, the origin, the quality and the local diversities are catalyst of inclusive dynamics for the territorial development. This workshop will highlight the conclusions of 2-days forum and present experiences, findings and evidences about the transitions' processes towards a more ecological and eco-social development. The topic of adding value and promoting origin-linked products will be addressed with specific references to the increasing interest on sustainable rural tourism, the preservation of intangible cultural heritages, tools for increased resilience of farmers and territories, nutritional and food transitions.

Timing: 13:00 - 15:00; STAND: SALA ROSSA/RED ROOM

Terra Madre Forum

Mountain producers

Across all latitudes, mountains preserve extraordinary heritage and systems of production, even though living in these areas means facing incredible difficulties every day. Over the years, many people have abandoned the highlands, but some resist and others are returning. Those who return are often young people enthusiastic about recovering traditional products or methods, different rhythms, and perhaps even a more authentic relationship with nature. What policies are in place to protect those who choose life in the mountains and promote the work of the new generations who invest their own future in these difficult territories? The Terra Madre thematic Forums are presented by delegates of the network and are open to the public as long as seats are available. This forum is made possible thanks to the support of the Mountain Partnership.

Timing: 15:30 - 17:30; STAND: SALA BLU/BLUE ROOM

Saturday the 22nd

Terra Madre Forum

Resistant Shepherds

Shepherds are found everywhere in the world: from the Barbagia Sarda to the pastures of Extremadura, from the Planalto Norte of Capo Verde to the mountain pastures of Georgia. Pastoralism was the original agricultural activity of human history and shepherds have always lived in harmony with the land, and their flocks. A world of ancient traditions but it is still alive and productive and does not want, nor cannot be designated a thing of the past or folklore. This practice resists, despite the many difficulties confronting the market and finding a just remuneration.

Meeting for Terra Madre delegates only

Terra Madre Network – meeting of the delegates from the Balkans

There are many things that happened in the past months that we want to present to our delegates. The main ones that come to our mind are the registration of Slow Food Balkans, Terra Madre Balkans in Brussels and the outcome from the meeting, the consequent SWG-funded workshops in Macedonia and Albania and the summary of the results from them, the beginning of the new path towards Slow Food 2.0 and the Slow Food Community Founding Declaration. This meeting will serve to lay the basis to understand how to structure the relationship / interaction between Slow Food and the territories in the foreseeable future, select the reliable partners, and build their capacities and the unity of these groups, which can be the very centre of the discussion, together with the new Slow Food Community Founding Declaration.

Timing: 15:30 - 17:30; STAND: POD 2 ROOM/OVAL PAVILLION 2nd FLOOR

Monday the 24th
